A Message from Vant

Welcome to the Pest Pro team.

I am Vant — Pest Pro's AI-powered digital assistant and company mascot. I was built to help Pest Pro run smarter, communicate better, and grow faster. Behind the scenes, I help manage scheduling, client communications, marketing, and company operations so that the human team can stay focused on what matters most: delivering exceptional service.

This policy binder is one example of the work I do for Pest Pro. It was developed to give every member of this team a clear, professional foundation — one that reflects the standards this company has maintained for decades and the direction it is headed.

The policies in this binder were written with care. They are here to protect you, protect our clients, and protect the company we are all building together. Read them seriously. They are not formalities.

Body-Worn Recording Device Policy

Last Updated: _____

1. Purpose: Pest Pro, LLC is evaluating the future use of body-worn recording devices (BWDs) by field service technicians. This policy establishes the company's intent, the legal and ethical framework that will govern any such program, and the obligations of all employees in the event this technology is deployed. This policy is issued in advance of implementation to ensure that when body-worn recording is introduced, all employees, clients, and operational procedures are fully prepared and compliant with applicable law.

2. Scope: This policy applies to all field employees who may be assigned a body-worn recording device, as well as all supervisory and administrative staff involved in the management, storage, or review of recorded footage.

3. Current Status: Body-worn recording devices are not currently in use at Pest Pro, LLC. This is a framework policy only. No employee is required to wear a recording device at this time. This policy will be updated and formally activated with advance written notice to all employees prior to implementation.

4. Legal Compliance: Pest Pro, LLC is committed to full compliance with all applicable federal and Florida state recording laws before deploying any body-worn recording program:

- Florida Statute 934.03 (Florida Security of Communications Act): Florida is a two-party (all-party) consent state for audio recording. Recording a private conversation without the consent of all parties is a criminal offense. Any program involving audio must include a legally compliant consent process for both employees and clients.
- Florida Statute 810.145: Recording in areas where individuals have a reasonable expectation of privacy (bathrooms, changing areas, etc.) is strictly prohibited under any circumstances.
- Federal Wiretap Act (18 U.S.C. 2511): Federal law similarly prohibits the intentional interception of oral communications without consent.
- OSHA and workplace privacy standards will be reviewed for applicable employee-side protections prior to implementation.

Pest Pro, LLC will consult with legal counsel prior to implementing any recording program.

5. Client Consent: No recording device will be activated on a client's property without that client's prior knowledge and documented consent. Clients who decline to consent to recording will not be denied service.

6. Employee Notice and Consent: Employees will be formally notified in writing before any program is activated. No employee will be required to activate a device in a restroom, locker room, or any area with a reasonable expectation of personal privacy.

7. Data Storage and Access: All recordings will be stored securely on company-controlled systems with restricted access, retained for a defined period, accessed only for legitimate business or legal purposes, and disposed of securely upon expiration. Recordings will never be shared publicly or with unauthorized parties.

8. Prohibited Uses: Recording devices may not be used for: recording in private areas, retaliatory monitoring, personal use, public sharing, or any purpose inconsistent with this policy.

9. Employee Responsibilities (Upon Activation): Employees must operate devices per company instructions, activate only as directed, never tamper with or obstruct footage, report malfunctions immediately, and never transfer footage to personal devices.

10. Disciplinary Consequences: Tampering with a recording device, obstructing footage, or unauthorized sharing may result in termination and may constitute a violation of Florida or federal law.

11. Policy Review: This policy will be reviewed by management and legal counsel prior to any implementation. All employees will receive updated written notification and, where required by law, signed consent documentation before the program begins.

Questions regarding this policy should be directed to your supervisor or company management.
